Original data: Seventh Census of the United States, 1850; (National Archives Microfilm Publication M432, 1009 rolls); Records of the Bureau of the Census, Record Group 29; National Archives, Washington, D.C.

Description:

This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1850 United States Federal Census, the Seventh Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, age as of the census day, sex, color; birthplace, occupation of males over age fifteen, and more. No relationships were shown between members of a household. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1850 Federal Census. If your disc does not run using this method, try using an application that is associated with the media on the disc. For example, if it is a music CD, open Windows Media® Player and use it to select and then play the CD. For other types of media, use the associated software to open the files on the disc.

Creating a CD/DVD

Depending on the configuration, your computer may come with a multi-function drive that allows you to:

- ❖ Play pre-recorded DVDs
- ❖ Play pre-recorded CDs
- ❖ Read and write data (depending on your system configuration) and music files to CD-R recordable (CD-R) and CD-RW rewritable (CD-RW) discs; and DVD±R/±RW or DVD RAM discs.

NOTE

Due to manufacturing and quality variations in third party optical media (e.g., CD or DVD) or optical media players/recorders, in certain cases, your Toshiba optical drive may not record on certain optical media that bear the applicable logo, or play back optical media recorded by other computers or optical media recorders. Additionally, certain optical media recorded on your optical drive may not play back or operate properly on other computers or optical media players. These problems are not due to any defect in your Toshiba computer or optical drive. Please refer to your computer's product specification for listing of specific format compatibilities. Copy protection technology may also prevent or limit recording or viewing of certain optical media.

For details on how to use the software, please refer to the respective Online Help menus.

Removing a disc with the computer on

- 1 To remove a disc (CD or DVD) with the computer turned on:

CAUTION

Do not press the eject button while the in-use indicator light is glowing. Doing so could damage the disc or the drive. Also, if the disc is still spinning when you open the disc tray, wait for it to stop spinning before you remove it.

Description: This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1860 United States Federal Census, the Eighth Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, age as of the census day, sex, color; birthplace, occupation of males over age fifteen, and more. No relationships were shown between members of a household. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1860 Federal Census. Description:
This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1870 United States Federal Census, the Ninth Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, age at last birthday, sex, color; birthplace, occupation, and more. No relationships were shown between members of a household. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1870 Federal Census. Learn more...

SUGGS CEMETERY may be reached by taking FM 2247 north from Comanche for 7.4 miles, turning right on to a county road for seven tenths of a mile, and then turning right again for an additional one half mile. The site is enclosed by a net wire fence and it receives some care. The earliest marked burial is that of Mrs. Elizabeth Culbertson who has the earliest birth and death dates among those buried here. The most recent burial is that of Willie M., the wife of Phillip A. Gressett, who died in 1970. The inscriptions were copied 7 July 1975.

GEORGE W. McKINZIE is a representative of one of the pioneer families of Comanche county. He was born in Murray county, Georgia, July 10, 1852, and when a year old was brought by his parents to Texas, the family locating in Bell county. In 1852 they went to Coryell county and in 1853 came to Comanche county, which at that time was not organized. When our subject was a lad of seven his father was killed by the Indians, on the 1st of March, 1860. Two years later his mother married J. W. Jenkins, and in 1866, on account of the hostile attitude of the Indians, the family went to Arkansas. In less than a year, however, George W. McKinzie returned to Texas, where he engaged in the cattle business, with which he was familiar from his earliest boyhood. To that industry he devoted his attention until he entered the ranging service, with which he was connected until 1876, doing duty under Captain B. S. Foster. In 1869 he was married, but after five years secured a legal separation. He had two children, William Kenneth, who is now twenty-three years of age; and John G. S., who died in childhood. The former resides with his mother and conducts a farm.

Our subject owns an improved farm, which he is now renting. In 1880 he embarked in merchandising at Ruble's Bridge, and also had charge of the toll-bridge across Leon river. The same year he took the census of his district, and in addition to his other work he has followed carpentering at Dublin and Abilene, being a skillful mechanic. He married Miss Melinda C. Ratliff, a daughter of Gabriel and Martha Ratliff.

In his political views George W. McKinzie is a stalwart Democrat, having always adhered to the principles of that party. In 1874 he was elected school director, and served for one term under Republican rule, but has never been an aspirant for office.

It will be interesting in this connection to note something of the family of which Mr. McKinzie is a representative. His parents, Kenneth and Mary McKinzie, belonged to prominent families of Georgia, where they were married, soon after emigrating to Texas. The former was a son of Charles McKinzie, who married a Miss Johnson. Her death occurred in Georgia, and later he was married in that state to Stacey Murray. In 1859 he came to Texas and took up his abode in Comanche county, where he engaged in farming and stock-raising. He was a public-spirited man, full of enterprise, and took an active interest in the welfare of the community. The Indians became hostile, and in 1863, while working near his home, he was assassinated by the savages. An avenging party soon started in pursuit but failed to overtake them. Some time afterward Mrs. McKinzie became the wife of Henry Martin, Sr.

Mrs. Mary Jenkins, the mother of our subject, was born September 23, 1829, and was a daughter of Henry Martin, of North Carolina, who in an early day removed with his family to Georgia, where he became a prominent farmer and stock-dealer. In 1852 he came with a small colony to Texas, spending two years in Bell county, and then removed to this section of the state. Here he aided in the organization of Comanche county, locating within its borders when it contained not more than six families. Among the early settlers here were David, James and William Cunningham, sheriffs of this county and good Indian fighters, and John and George, sheriffs of other counties, besides Aaron, Richard, Joseph and Thomas, also good men for that office. Successfully he carried on farming and stock-raising, and until his death continued a prominent resident of Comanche county. He had nineteen children, twelve of whom reached mature years, namely: William, Dicia, James, Mrs. McKinzie, Henry, Rebecca, Margaret, Lucy A., Sarah A., Jessie, Calvin and Nancy. In early life the parents were members of the Methodist church, but after coming to Texas joined the Baptist church.

Kenneth McKinzie, father of our subject, was reared in Tennessee and married in Georgia, and as before stated came to the Lone Star state in 1852, and in 1854 to Comanche county, driving stakes in the ground to indicate his ownership of land. He was a blacksmith, and in addition to his farming operations worked at that trade. He located on Indian creek, about five miles east of the present site of Comanche, although no town existed there at the time, only a small log fort, in which the settlers took refuge in 1860 when the Indians became hostile. As the white people were fleeing to the fort a fight ensued, and James and Kenneth McKinzie were wounded. The former, however, finally recovered, but the latter died the next day. He was a very influential and useful citizen, and was a consistent member of the Baptist church. He left a widow and two small sons, the brother of our subject being John D., who died later. He was at one time captured by the Indians, but was returned the same day. Mrs. McKinzie suffered the loss of all her stock, which was captured by the red men. After two years she married John W. Jenkins, a Tennessee farmer and stock dealer, who located in Coryell county in 1851, and came to Comanche county in 1854. He was a faithful member of the Methodist church, and died in October, 1893. Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins had three children,—Henry, Sarah and William,—but the first two are now deceased. The mother has been a member of the Methodist church since the age of thirteen years, and her consistent Christian life is most worthy of emulation.

SUGGS CEMETERY may be reached by taking FM 2247 north from Comanche for 7.4 miles, turning right on to a county road for seven tenths of a mile, and then turning right again for an additional one half mile. The site is enclosed by a net wire fence and it receives some care. The earliest marked burial is that of Mrs. Elizabeth Culbertson who has the earliest birth and death dates among those buried here. The most recent burial is that of Willie M., the wife of Phillip A. Gressett, who died in 1970. The inscriptions were copied 7 July 1975.
